When the bunch of cricketers who left on the Mauna Kea today reach McGregor's Landing they will be met with joy by the Walluku crowd. And the ride across to the lively little town will be a joyous jaunt; automobiles will convey the cricketers to a hospitable hotel, where the inner man will be refreshed and sleep indulged in by those who imagine they need it.

But the chances of getting to slumberland with a bunch of Maui cricketers around the premises are very slim, and it is odds on that the two teams step on to the cricket field without having had much repose.

However, the Honolulu eleven is a strong, healthy one, and the men will put up a good game, notwithstanding the fact that they have to make such a strenuous trip.

Thirteen men have been selected to make the trip, and a fair combination they make. It is to be regretted that C. P. Morse cannot make the trip, as he would have been a valuable man to his side. However, Archie Robertson has been induced to make one of the eleven, and if he plays in anything like the form he showed a few weeks ago he will astonish the Walluku bowlers.

The match will start tomorrow, and probably will last all day; two innings should be played, and by the time the game is over the Honolulu eleven will be ready to do justice to the dinner which will be given them by the home team.

Late on Wednesday night, or early on Thursday morning the Claudine will call at Kahului and be delayed long enough to allow the team to get through kaukau and catch the steamer for Honolulu.

Those who will make the trip are as follows: R. Anderson, H. Bailey, J. H. Fiddes, C. F. Maxwell, H. M. Ayres, R. A. Jordan, T. W. Gray, F. B. Withington, L. Withington, J. C. McGill, J. N. Densham, W. Brown and Archie Robertson.

Of course Bob Anderson is a tower of strength to his side, and if Withington or one of the other members of the team can stay with him, Robert will knock up a big score for sure. Fiddes may also do well if he gets his eye in before his wicket is taken. McGill, Bailey and Gray should be able to hit the country bowling, and a surprise may come from any of the rest of the bunch.

LOCAL AND COAST AUTO DOINGS

One of the first things that strikes a stranger in our midst is the large number of automobiles there are in the city. As the tourists travel out to Waikiki on a Rapid Transit car, auto after auto is met, and the visitors are always heard to remark on the many machines to be seen.

And at first glance it does not seem strange to see such a number of cars around a city of the size of Honolulu. But the next thought is that here must be a wealthy town. Automobiles are a sign of coin, and it is good to see that the community as a whole is prosperous.

Every make of car that exists on the mainland may be seen in Honolulu, and all the very latest improvements are embodied in the magnificent machines that are imported on every boat from the coast.

The garages are up to date, and some of the most expert auto men are now settled in these islands.

Vice-Consul H. M. Byington, of Bristol, reports as follows concerning a new British apparatus which controls the speed of motor cars:

According to the published description of a practical trial, the device automatically removes the clutch when the speed of the car slightly exceeds the arranged limit,

Champion Singles Play Tomorrow

Entries for the single championship of the islands will close this afternoon at 5 o'clock. So far quite a number of men have entered for the singles, but the doubles have not attracted very many players. However, the entry book for the doubles will remain open for a while longer and many more couples are sure to enter.

Sixteen men have so far entered for the singles, and some of the best players in the Territory can be found on the list. The following names were entered in the book at E. O. Hall & Son's up till noon today: R. A. Cook, C. G. Bockus, F. E. Steers, Noel Deerr, E. S. Gee, F. E. Greenfield (Ewa), L. S. Connors, Geo. Waterhouse, Captain Low, C. R. Hemenway, Major C. G. Long, J. McCauley, T. P. W. Gray, J. McConnell, R. Sinclair and Paul R. Bartlett.

For the doubles Noel Deerr-Geo. Waterhouse and J. W. Brewster-R. N. Oliver are the only ones entered up to date.

Of the men entered for the singles, E. S. Gee stands out as about the strongest; he is in excellent form just now and is playing in first-class style; it will take a very strong man to beat him, fit and well.

C. G. Bockus will be away for some time from the Territory, and consequently, will not play in the tournament. Warren also has gone to the mainland, so Gee will not have to meet that strong player again.

The singles will start tomorrow afternoon on the Beretania street court at 4 p. m. sharp, and the draw will be arranged this evening. It is hoped that the ladies' singles and mixed doubles will attract a number of entries, and the fact that Miss Hall will probably have a try for the championship will lend great interest to the tournament.

Everything is in fine shape at the Beretania street courts, and all that is now required is that the double players get busy and put down their names for the event.

Tennis is booming all over the islands, and it is intended to make the present tournament one of the best ever pulled off in Honolulu.

There will be a meeting of the Jah: Baseball League on Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in Charles F. Chillingworth's office. Some important business will come up for consideration and a full attendance of members is requested.

Legget Trap To Be Tried Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at the Kakaako range the new Leggett trap will be tried for the first time, and no doubt a big crowd of shooting enthusiasts will journey down to see the wonderful contrivance at work.

The trap is a wonder in a way, for not only does it do away with five extra men, but also throws the clay birds out at all unknown angles. The man who places the pigeons in the actual trap simply sits in a pit, and by working his feet one way or another swings the trap around in any direction.

He does not know who is coming up to shoot, and the other man, who works the lever, is also in the dark as regards the angle the bird will come out at.

The trap can throw 1000 birds per hour, and is as near perfection as has been obtained in the mechanical line up to date. It was a long time coming and the members have been looking forward to its arrival for some months now.

However, now that the trap has been installed, there will be much practice at Kakaako in anticipation of the shoot for the Selby trophy, which is a beautiful gold watch. The prize has been donated by the Selby Cart-ridge Company, and will go to the winner of a 50-bird shoot.

The date has not yet been set for the competition as it is thought that the members should have plenty of practice at the new trap before engaging in a match shoot.

Kaliki-Ukas Defeat Seals Once More

On Sunday last the Seals and Kaliki-ukas met on the Aala Park diamond, and a very easy victory resulted for the latter team, who made 16 runs to their opponents' 2. The game, although one-sided, was not as bad as it appears to be on paper, as some good individual play was seen at times. The usual big crowd of Sunday morning fans lined the field, and some of the joshing was immense.

Lul Branco did the pitching for the Kalikis, and his work was good right through. John Freitas was on the receiving end, and he worked in harmony with Branco; the catcher's throwing to second was fine, and he got several men in that manner.

The Seals and Ukas are old opponents on the diamond, and the keenest rivalry exists between the two sides. Next Sunday a return match will be played, and the Seals intend turning the tables on their rivals for the baseball honors.

Franklin runabout from the national capital to Denver, allowing about three weeks for the 2,200-mile trip at the rate of 200 miles a day. Their route is through Pennsylvania and New York and then west through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, with possibly a run into New Mexico. Mr. Hunter is a member of the board of governors of the Automobile club of Washington.

Generally the tourists are finding good roads and good treatment. At Milton, Pa., however, a woman with a hose turned a stream of water onto them because she had been angered by the stirring up of the dust by several automobilists who had preceded them.

Mr. Hunter fully equipped his car for the long drive. It is a runabout of twenty-eight horse power.
